SENIOR LEAGUE.

IMPERIALS 2—vs—CARDINALS 7.

May 23.—This contest proved a mockery to the hopes entertained by the Imperials, for its battery proved to be in sad need of repairs; Dillhoff being compelled to give up the fight because of a stone bruise. The Cardinals opened up with four runs in the first inning while the Imperials touched Lambert for two runs in the fourth.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	R	H
Cardinals	4	0	1	0	2	7	4
Imperials	0	0	0	0	2	2	5

Batteries: Kihm, Schmidt and Dillhoff; Lambert and Doll.

IMPERIALS 3—vs—LAURELS 4.

May 24. — This proved to be one of the best games played by the Senior League of 1913. Marvelous fielding featured the game. Support proved to be nearly perfect, both teams being in good form. Nevertheless, the Imperials were once again humiliated by the close score of 4 to 3.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H
Imperials	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	3	7
Laurels	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	2	4	6

Batteries: Tokarz and Bruin. Schmidt and Kihm.

ROYALS 6—vs—LAURELS 3.

May 25.—Bad luck proved to be a great factor in this game, and as the result the Laurels bowed to the Royals. Poor stick work in the pinches was disastrous, for with three men on base and nobody down, Barth prevented his opponents from scoring. The Royals are again tied with the Cardinals for the honors. We, therefore, anticipate great things in the near future.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H
Royals	0	1	2	0	0	3	0	0	0	6	7
Laurels	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	3	6

Batteries: Tokarz, Schellinger and Bruin: Barth and Hellen

Home run: Bustetter. Three base hit: Eisenhardt.

JUNIOR LEAGUE.

NAPS 0—vs—TIGERS 3.

Although Lynch held the Tigers down to two hits, he lost 3 to 0. In the first inning the first three men up hit safely and rounded the circuit for the only runs of the entire five innings. The Naps managed to secure three hits off Murray but inability to run the bases proved their downfall.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	R	H
Tigers	3	0	0	0	x	3	2
Naps	0	0	0	0	0	0	3

Batteries: Murray and Koziar; Lynch and Annen.

TIGERS 5—vs—WHITE SOX 3.

The Tigers tightened their grasp on the pennant by winning a close and interesting game from the White Sox. Again the Tigers secured all their runs in the first inning on two hits, a walk and several errors. Except for that first inning but one hit was secured and that by the White Sox, who made a great effort to win but were too much handicapped by the five run lead of their opponents.

Inning	1	2	3	4	5	R	H
Tigers	5	0	0	0	x	5	2
White Sox	0	1	1	0	1	3	2

Batteries: Murray and Kozior;
Kanney and Collins.

NAPS 3—vs—RED SOX 3.

The Naps and Red Sox battled for five innings to a tie, 3 to 3. The Naps secured their runs in the second and third frames, the Red Sox in the third and fourth. Silverstein and Lynch both pitched good ball, the former allowing but four hits, the latter six. This was undoubtedly the best played game of the season.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	R	H
Naps	0	0	1	2	0	3	4
Red Sox	0	2	1	1	0	3	6

Batteries: Lynch and Annen;
Silverstein and Fedorka.

NAPS 10—vs—RED SOX 1.

In their second game of the series with the Red Sox, the Naps proved more than a match for them and grabbed the game after clouting the ball hard and running the bases at will. Silverstein was in poor form and allowed seven hits besides several walks. Lynch allowed but two hits neither of which resulted in a run. Dusek replaced Tiffin at third when the latter injured his finger in scooping a low throw.

Innings.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H
Naps	0	0	3	4	0	3	0	0	x	10	7
Red Sox	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	2

Batteries: Lynch and Annen.
Silverstein and Fedorka.

TIGERS 5—vs—RED SOX 3

In what proved to be the most hotly contested and exciting game of the season among the Junior teams, the Red Sox, after battling gamely for five innings, finally succumbed and added a few more points to the Tigers already large percentage. Although the Sox lost they can certainly feel proud of the way in which they stuck until the last man was called out. For several innings they held their opponents helpless, but Dame Fortune had eyes only for the Tigers and came to their aid in the last few rounds. Silverstein in excellent form, pitched his most brilliant game of the season, and with any element of luck in his favor would certainly have won.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	R	H
Tigers	1	1	0	3	x	5	5
Red Sox	0	0	2	1	0	3	7

Batteries: Murray and Kozior.
Silverstein and Fedorka.

Owing to the poor shape of the diamond the game scheduled for last Sunday has been postponed until the 15th of June.

Dillhoff. — “What’s that bump on your head?”
Perkins. — “That’s where a thought struck me.”

EDITORIALS.

The weatherman seems to have selected St. Joe as the victim for all extra wet seasons and as a result a great many games have been postponed. So far two Varsity games and a number of League games, both Senior and Junior have been set apart for more appropriate days, and judging from the present look of the schedule, the time from now on till Commencement will be well occupied with baseball.

The teams of the Senior League are showing the results of their work and the fight seems to have centered on the Royals and Cardinals, the former at present having a slight lead in the race. The Imperials won three straight and looked promising for a time, but dropped the next two games, thereby losing a standing that will require hard, persistent playing to regain. The Laurels although playing a good brand of ball always manage to lose by a few points. A rearrangement of their batting order would undoubtedly help not a little.

Among the Juniors the Tigers are having things their own way and, unless the rest of teams put up a stronger fight than they have been, bid fair to finish with a percentage greatly exceeding that of their opponents. The Naps for a time, were conceded to be the strongest but the strain proved too great and they have steadily dropped down. The other two teams are playing good ball, but fail in the pinches. More practice would help considerably.

LOCALS.

L. Lambert. — "Those aren't pheasants, they are chickens. Can't you see how they drink?"

Prof. — "No wonder you boys have colds all the time."

Jerry Collings. — "Why?"

Prof. — "Wearing that P. D. Q. underwear."

Sullivan. — "Poor Matchette is laid up with his knee."

N. Murphy. — "How did he hurt it?"

Sullivan. — "Practicing the hook slide on a telephone pole surrounded by cement."

O'Connell. — "Why do they call the fellers in prison jail-birds?"

K. Carroll. — "Oh! just because they had been a-robin."

Dolan. — "Say, there is only room for a match here."

W. Murphy. — "Well, sit down then."

Kane. — "Say, Red (Collins) what does comprehend mean?"

Red. — (scratching his head) "I guess it means excited."

Monahan. — "It tells here of the death of an old friend of mine, peace to his ashes."

Murphy. — "To his ashes? Is that where he went?"

Professor (after 20 minutes ineffectual explanation.) — "Whitcomb, what do you think your head is for?"

Whitcomb (thinking it another of those awful questions) pondered a while, then bravely said: "Please Father, I expect it's to keep my collar on."
